

VIRTUAL BOOK LAUNCH

Monday June 8th
12 PM PST // 3 PM EST
Zoom ID: 712-872-4008

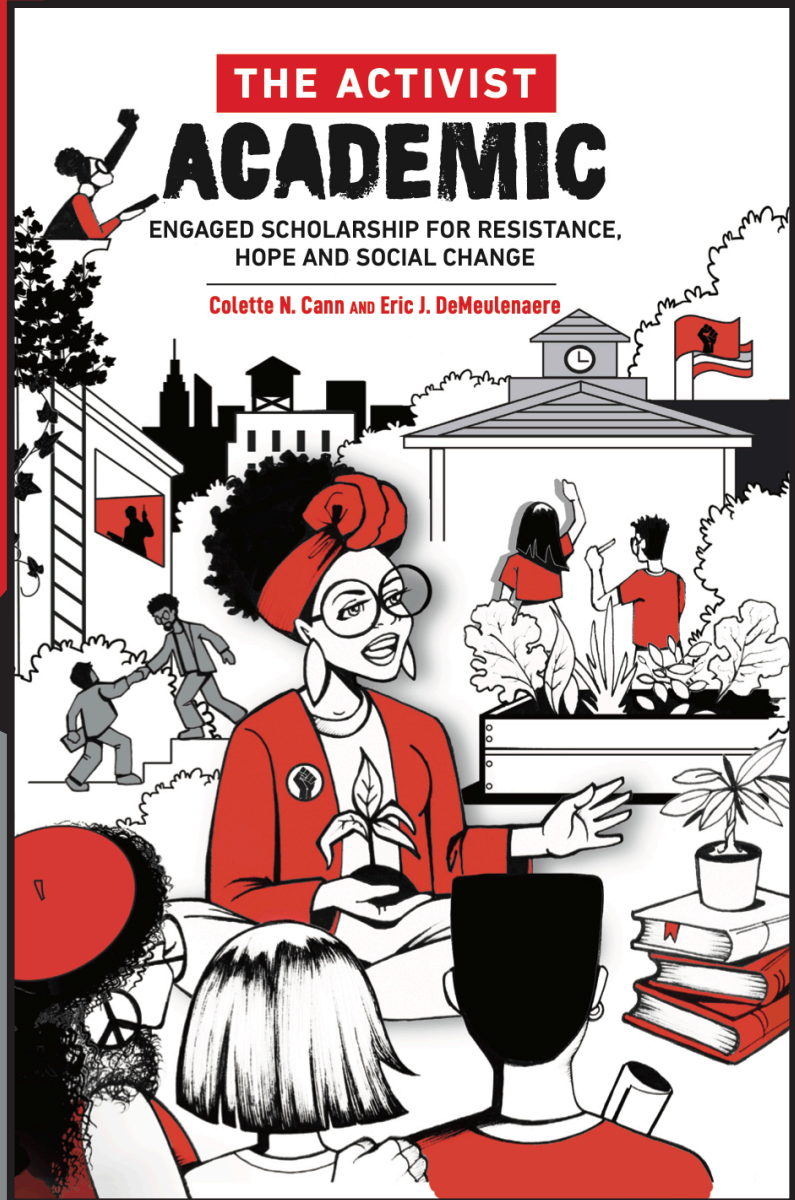

“The Activist Academic is oxygen for the researcher/scholar/teacher who dares to imagine the university as a site of radical accountability to justice.”

— Michelle Fine Distinguished Professor of Critical Psychology and Urban Education, The Graduate Center, City University of New York

Authors

Colette Cann is an Associate Professor at the University of San Francisco in the School of Education. She publishes and teaches in the areas of Critical Race Theory and Public Scholarship.

Eric DeMeulenaere is an Associate Professor of Education at Clark University. In 2004, he co-founded and directed an innovative small public school in East Oakland focused on social justice. He is a founding director of the Community Youth and Education Studies major at Clark.

Contributors/Discussants

Margo Okazawa-Rey is Barbara Lee Distinguished Chair in Women's Leadership and Visiting Professor of Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies and Public Policy at Mills College in Oakland, California. She also is Professor Emerita at San Francisco State University.

John Saltmarsh is a Professor of Higher Education in the College of Education and Human Development at the University of Massachusetts, Boston. He is also a Distinguished Engaged Scholar at the Swearer Center for Public Service at Brown University.

Moderator

Monisha Bajaj is a Professor of International and Multicultural Education at the University of San Francisco, where she directs the M.A. program in Human Rights Education. She developed curriculum related to peace education, human rights, anti-bullying efforts and sustainability for non-profit organizations and inter-governmental organizations, such as UNICEF and UNESCO.

